A Summer Appetizer—A teaspoonful of Horford's Acid Phosphate in a glass of water stimulates appetite and quenches thirst.

BREED THEATER.

"The Lonely Villa," Thrilling Suburban Motion Picture.

What is conceded to be one of the most thrilling and perfect motion pictures put out by the Biograph company was shown at the Breed Theater last evening to a large and demonstrative audience. The wonderful story of the husband leaving the family in a beautiful but secluded country villa, on a fake message purporting to come from his mother, who was said to have started from the west on a trip to her son's, gave an excellent opportunity for the burglars who have sent this message, to rob the house. The husband starting for his wife and family, and finding the wife and family huddled in the library with the burglars breaking their way in. His machine being unavailable, he hastily secures a spy wagon and proceeds to his house at breakfast speed, just in time to enter and find the burglars at their work, but the husband has brought neighbors and constables and the culprits are carried off to the jail.

La Tosca, the magnificent dramatic triumph of Sara Bernhard, is currently reproduced in one of the finest film series of Paris, this wonderfully absorbing and world-famous story is one of the most beautiful in the art class, and is in great demand.

Miss Grace Alvin, the popular Boston soprano, will sing at every performance, giving only the best grade of semi-classic numbers, besides her usual illustrated songs. Critics present last evening were flattering in their praise of her work.

LINCOLN PARK.

Vaudeville at Rustic Theater.

The crowds at Lincoln park continue to enjoy the bill at the rustic theater and also the dancing pavilion. Wednesday night the theater was well filled and the dancing floor was in demand until the last car left for Norwich at 11:15.

As a xylophone player Miss Thurston evokes much sweet music from the wooden keys. Charlie O'Neil sings acceptably and his stories are laughable. Gardner and Golder are humorous as blackface men and their act contains a tangle of solo and duet as well as some new jokes. Miss La Panto is capable as a singer and dancer, and "A Day in a Vaudeville Agency" abundantly in ludicrous situations and there are a number of dances and songs that take well, while Mr. Watson plays the green German office boy in a manner which brings out roars of laughter.

Roderick Theater.

For the latter part of the week Manager Drury has secured a bill which even surpasses the excellent bill of the first part of the week. He has secured as a feature picture, "For His Daughter's Sake," a very emotional drama with a strong plot. A very pretty trick picture is the Magic Carpet. The comedy part of the program is represented by The Dog and the Sausage and Sleeping Tonic, both capable of exhausting one through hilarious laughter. Among the others are Good for Evil, and The Pender Cord, Mr. William Delaney will sing "Toodle, a popular ballad which has been a success all over the country, and will certainly be one here, being sung by such a capable person. Manager Drury, as before published, has decided to change his pictures on Monday and Thursday only, as many of his patrons wished to see the pictures more than once.

Connecticut Legislature

Senator Searis replied that his town was not large in numbers but its people were of fine quality. He thought he would feel just like Senator Stiles did.

Then Senator Chase denounced the bill, saying he thought there was a great deal behind the wording of it. The present law had stood for thirty years against the attacks made upon it and he thought it should remain. Senator Searis said that the more he read the bill the less he liked it, and upon his suggestion the matter was tabled.

The senate during the afternoon passed the act amending the act under which the town court of Orange was established, so that an assistant prosecuting attorney may be appointed; the bill providing that street railways shall pay their share of street watering costs; an act defining and giving more authority to the department of police in investigation of fires and to local fire marshals. Another excise matter passed, that which prohibits any saloon keeper to allow women to loiter about saloons.

The act concerning intimidation and boycotting which amends the present law by inserting the words "calculated or intended" in the sentence which now reads "any means to intimidate any person," was also passed.

Other measures passed in concurrence were: Act establishing a borough court at Stafford Springs; act establishing a board of examiners of embalmers; act changing the method of making out certificates of death and embalming; appropriating $250 as a deficiency in the expenses of the fish commission; act appropriating $750 in the appropriation for state auditors, and an act concerning committees of the superior court.

A favorable report came in on building a state road from Eastville to one state college and one on the licensing of junk dealers.

The senate cleared up most of its calendar and now has very little business in sight.

THE HOUSE.

Speaker Banks called the house to order at 10:30 and Chaplain Countryman offered prayer.

Slips to secure a 7 p. m. closing hour of work for children under 18 years of age in stores were distributed to members before the house's opening.
